The great sin of Lucifer was that he judged the higher (deeper, everlasting), by the lower (shallower, lesser).

That was his pride.

He judged Christ, the creator and His kingdom by the lower wisdom of creation (himself). So the sin was that he used his own standards and wisdom = self righteousness, which is also the righteousness of this world (he is now the king/lord of this physical, lower kingdom).

We see the same today, when those who are under the old, immature, fallen law, covenant and order try to judge those who are under the new, mature, everlasting law, covenant and order. Notice also that this can also to some degree differ by the subject at hand. A person who has no prejudices against races, may judge righteously in matters that revolve around this subject. But if they possess the demon of misogynism (also a form of partiality that belong to the old order and judging by the shallower, outer, lower), they are then on matters revolving around gender, under the witchcraft and mind control/ prison of Satan.

So a person can still be under the old order in some areas, and in other areas they have been set free from the law of sin and prejudices. From the son/daughter of the slave woman, to the son/ daughter of the free woman. See Galatians chapter 4, which deals with the difference of the old vs new, everlasting law and covenant.

And the same is true for today, and the same is true for all false religions and philosophies. They attempt to judge by the lower, the shallower, the lesser light, when a greater light and more advanced truth has been revealed and made accessible within their reach.

This is the case both when it comes to versions of wisdom, love, justice, joy, but also sorrow and indignation (the latter to is relevant for the Christian as long as the virus of sin and false doctrines still exist). Lower magic set up against the higher magic if you will.

Also we know that it was not only the highest angel Lucifer who fell, but also the first and most perfect of humanity in Adam and Eve, was tested to see if they chose to listen to the lower voice of 666 (the unholy trinity), and the law and spirit of the flesh / of self / of this world, or if they chose to obey the higher voice from 777 (The Holy Triune God) and the Holy law and spirit of God. They chose to listen to the lower voice and fell into sin. And hence are all humans tested in the same manner. What voice, what doctrine, what law do we choose to listen to? Because as we see, most people choose to follow the law and spirit of the beast, of the unsanctified, lower human nature. This does not mean I condemn anyone, I firmly believe everyone can be saved and sanctified. All human beings except Jesus Christ who sacrificed Himself and chose to be born in the human flesh, being perfectly the Son of God and the Son of Man, never transgressing the law of God, we have all fallen short and deserve the penalty of everlasting death (the second death for which there is no resurrection). But the good news is the everlasting promise of the everlasting gospel that we can still be made righteous by the two-fold purpose of grace and the two sides of the cross, through faith. Read more about this here:
