New false light, and fallen, conservative light. Yet both belong under the same king and order.

Satan try in one end to create a close counterfeit to the genuine "new light". He has also created an alternative to the new mature, everlasting covenant. Hence false new light. At the other end he also try to get those who are afraid of progressions to get stuck in a limited, immature truth, so that they will fail of advancing forward toward the fuller, advanced law and doctrine of Jesus Christ. Both in terms of individual sanctification and growth as well as the advancement for the true Christian church, from shadows to increased light. This particular article addresses mostly the liberal side, as I have addressed the right, conservative side often in many of my other articles. But some problems we see on the right side is also repeated briefly here.

Keywords: Fighting for human rights, social justice (social justice), (LGBTQ+, BLM, feminist movement, social gospel only. Emphasis on the last six commandments to love creation, your neighbor. Brotherhood and Community, despite different faiths. Heavy focus on environmental commitment right before Christ's 'second Advent, when he will destroy the earth. Instead of preaching Christ's new law and covenant, and let our actions be driven by having God's law of love written on the heart. So that all preaching and humanitarian work becomes more voluntary and that we act more in accordance with the spirit of God and the will of God for this present time. Rather than being motivated by group pressure, coercion and wages. Note that this does not mean we should neglect it. We should take responsibility in all these areas, of course. I'm talking about a strong or main commitment and focus in the wrong areas at the wrong time. And being driven by the wrong motive, and hence then operate by an unholy spirit.

Natural Law. Teaching mankind is good within themselves. While the Bible teaches that we need a power from the outside, from God and His spirit, in order to be transformed from having a heart more or less inclined to walk by sight, after the law of the flesh, of sin, to receiving the law of God by grace through faith. -Make use of reason, which is positive, but it is merely focused on this life, in which it can easily become a negative by a wrong priority and main focus. Hence linked to the earth. Human reasoning. While Christians are to reason together with the Lord, according to His standards, measurements, timing etc. Hence limiting the work of the holy spirit. They teach we are created with this reason to know the difference between right and wrong and that it is by nature inside of us. This is not the case according to the word of God, who teaches that every good and perfect gift comes from God. Mature conscience and moral ethics will not be developed until later in life, which is essential in the sanctification of God, which is the Christian's journey.

We will all have to go from darkness to increased light, from immaturity to maturity. This in order to be able to differentiate between darkness and light, so we in the end can be better equipped to make a choice for or against God. This is God's upbringing, and we are to give the honor and glory to God for our good thoughts and deeds. Not to ourselves. This was also the sin of the king of Babylon, Nebudchadnezzar, who was greatly punished by God for 7 years, until He repented and was saved. Many receive this counterfeit, thinking this is in line with the law of God, of being compassionate and loving our neighbor.

I think we can also see ho the idea of "natural law" is connected to the belief of pantheism: "God in everything and everyone".

From NewWorldEncyclopedia:

"The division between the two types of pantheism remains a source of some controversy in pantheist circles. The nature of pantheism has been a topic of much contention in religious and philosophical discourse, spurring many debates over the implications of its doctrines. However, most pantheists agree on the following two principles: 1) that the universe is an all-encompassing unity; and 2) that natural laws are found throughout the universe*. Some pantheists also posit a common purpose for nature and humanity, while others reject the idea of teleology and view the universe as existing for its own sake. An oft-cited feature of classical pantheism is that each individual human, as a part of the universe or nature, is a part of God."*

While another class, particularly any right-winged Christians and those who are possessed with prejudices and judging by the external factors (race, nationality, genes, status etc, according to Galatians 3:26-29) will run into the complete opposite direction. Right into the trap of walking in accordance with the old law and covenant. Hence a fallen law /order. And refusing to address the issue at all and provide God's solution to this: The Loud cry message. The message of, Christ's new, everlasting covenant. Preaching Galatians 3:26-29. Preaching Christ's sanctification of having the law of God written on our hearts and minds, which happen by grace through faith. Hence Christ's law and the faith of Jesus. Hebrews 8:10.

So we have:

1. A new false order under the banner of Satan.
2. A fallen old order, also under the banner of Satan. You find Babylon both to the left and right. Satan is a general both over the shadows and the fallen and false light.

However the "new, false order or new, false light" is really just a modern twist of pagan and humanistic doctrines, and while the beliefs may advance closer to the truth of Christ, there are still obvious flaws and errors and a heavy reliance on the physical, material world, for salvation. Hence it belong under the old, immature, fallen law, covenant and order of the king of this world, not the king of the new, everlasting order of the true Jesus Christ. You will also detect that as you peel back the outer layers, the deceptions and darkness is not any less, but even greater than in previous eras. It is often an attempt at Christian baptized paganism.

Legal positivism? -little to no use of reasoning. - Presented as a fixed state - exclude the working of the holy spirit which is a development, a progress of ones spiritual state, and morality and ethics.

Love mixed with force in one end of the spectrum, and anarchy in the other end of the spectrum. Both is of Babylon. The world is now shouting "peace and safety..." after Biden took over the Presidency of the United States of America. As I see it, Biden's views (social teachings) and politics are close to the truth, but still quite far apart. I see conservative Adventists and Christians who make a big mistake though of running in the complete opposite direction, both when it comes to the Pope and Biden. Trump was obviously chaos in my eyes, just to make that crystal clear. And I do not claim that it was arranged by people or that Trump did it on purpose. I do not know the answer to that. In any case, it means little how and why it happened. The spiritual battle is very advanced in any event. And it is the spiritual powers we are to reveal.

But even though some see and understand that Biden's and the Pope's social teachings can lead to Sunday laws, it can also be a fatal mistake to run completely in the other direction, as I understand it now. What is the problem with socialism and "social teachings" which is also a Catholic concept, is that charity ("love") is often linked to strong pressure from people, or straight out force. So much that God's law of love becomes like a Babylonian twist on this law, and thus in the category of "false or Babylonian. (close counterfeit to the genuine). It is driven by a false holy spirit. Appearing as godliness, but without the power.

Not only that, but we also see how they have a very strong emphasis on the last six commandments, summed up in the second great commandment of loving creation/mankind. This is often on the expense of where our main priority should be: of loving and obeying the Creator, God first.
The greatest commandment, is the first, and sum up the first four of the ten commandments, including the Sabbath commandment. So we see how a wrong main focus and priority can escalate into accepting the mark of the beast, enforced Sunday laws, and make mankind believe it is for the sake of “common good” of all.

“He said to him, “’You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind.’ This is the greatest and first commandment. And a second is like it: ‘You shall love your neighbor as yourself.” Matthew 22:37-39

Since each individual is only expected to live up to the light they receive, at any given time, we should not judge those who are part of these movements, although we should warn against this, while proclaiming the true Seventh-Day Sabbath, found in the fourth commandment, at the same time.

God's law of love depends on it being chosen and free. Therefore, coercion, that is linked to Love / charity, in the form of civil laws in a country where everyone is automatically affected, is a form that does not come from God's higher form of love. Which represents His kingdom / heavenly government. Of course, this does not mean that everyone who follows it thereby transgress God's commandments of love. But the danger of going too far here, and starting to mix coercion with "love," and forcing the conscience of people in these areas in particular, may turn fatal in the end.

We also know that each individual is expected to live up to the light they have received or could obtain in the present. And that God will judge everyone accordingly. Hence those who have received light on various issues, will be judged differently from those who have received little to none.

For instance, it is different in a church, with set rules and laws, and groups, because people can still choose which group they want to join. For example, if members of a church or group start preaching / posting theories that are satanic by nature, it will of course be fought against and or not be allowed, or have to be censored away. Otherwise, there would have been no point in having different churches and groups with a number of common beliefs. It would soon become anarchy, which is not of God, but of the arch-enemy.

So, it is wrong if a law states that you can no longer freely choose group, church or creed anymore. But it is not the fault of those churches, groups and having beliefs and rules to adhere to with regard to what is allowed in these directions. As long as they are free to sign in and out. We are called to fight against some false doctrines as these represent Babylon. Therefore, it goes without saying if you think a little further, that everything can not be allowed in an Adventist church, in a Baptist church, in an Adventist group, etc. Those who say something else should then start their own religion where everything is allowed and there are no rules or guidelines, no common beliefs. Where "the law" is anarchy. So do not mix the cards as many do in these days, in so many areas. It just cause even more confusion.

So we see a tendency toward anarchy, and religious laws forcing or bending the conscience, in a country. Without so much opportunity to just be able to freely choose something else. Neither of these is of God, but of Babylon.

Notice I am not saying we should not fight for justice or equality or for mankind. But we are called to fight and uphold a higher law, the law of love divine, the law of faith, the law and faith of Christ, the new, mature, everlasting covenant, and law and order. Which is His kingdom's law and justice system of a higher order than any law and justice you find in this world. God's eternal law of love, rather than the world's version of human rights and the world's version of justice. Christ's everlasting covenant and order that preach abolition of all the outer factors like race, nationality, gender, status, education status, health status and so on. See Hebrews 8:10 and Galatians chapter 3, and particularly verse 26-29, which describe the law of Christ by faith: His everlasting gospel and covenant, law and order.

It is not just one cause, but joining several, so that it will be in almost all areas and conditions eventually. Hence they speak increasingly the same language as the world and spiritualism, including its entry into most Christian churches. And that's when I ask if they are not in danger of falling more and more towards the other side? For we know that the time will soon come when Satan himself will appear as Christ himself and perform humanitarian work and fight for these same causes. As is well known, Bailey promotes the Antichrist, the false Christ, and the fallen angels (spiritual hierarchy).

Satan comes as an angel of light and love, and a benefactor of mankind. Many have the idea that just because everything sounds so beneficial, then there can be nothing wrong with it. But particularly Adventists have received special warnings here from Ellen White, which we ought to take much more seriously in my strong opinion.

Added December 2021: Back to the right, conservative camp in the church(es): Many, including modern spiritualists (think David Icke, Russel Brand), and conservative, and right winged Christians (Alex Jones and Walter Veith are some examples of front figures here) and we see this particularly in the recent war on the covid-19 restrictions and the covid-19 vaccine, take confidence/ pride/refuge in the:

- Physical flesh (Strong physical health and immune system to combat all the physical plagues and pandemics in these last days)

And many right winged Christians also seem dependent upon: - Physical buildings (Christians and pastors who believe and preach they must meet at certain church buildings or else they go against the will of God and think their actions is obedience to God and not man). - Physical, literal mountains (running to the hills quite literally) …as if they think it is not just beneficial, but rather essential for salvation in these last days.

They think and act (judge) as if we are largely dependent upon the king of this world of the physical kingdom, the outer factors, in order to be saved. The literal, physical represent the old, immature law, covenant and order. But we are saved by grace, which has more to do with spiritual power, from the triune God, through faith. Though that does not define completely what grace is.

Read more on the two-fold purpose of grace here;

--

From one of the many protests and demonstrations against the covid-19 restrictions and policies by the government: "The bald guy says they march to show the world that they have a strong immune system (strong physical health) and that we do not need any of the covid-19 restrictions.

Notice there are mass protests like these for the last few weeks all over the world, and particularly Europe, USA, South America and Australia. Fighting for freedom and human rights." https://m.youtube.com/watch?v=TxMvwJZGPg8&feature=share

..

Read also:

Matthew 24. A deeper interpretation

The King of the North and the King of the South. Right-wing conservative VS. Left-wing liberal philosophies.

Christ's First VS. Second coming. And why it matters.

Read the series "From 666-777. Sanctified in the image of God" and particularly the last articles are very relevant concerning this particular subject here: https://www.via-veritas-vita.org/blog/categories/top-5

Lastly a few quotes by Ellen G. White:

"As spiritualism imitates the Christianity of the day, it has great power to deceive. Satan himself is "converted." He will appear as an angel of light. Through spiritualism, miracles will be wrought, the sick will be healed, and many undeniable wonders will be performed.

Papists who boast of miracles as a sign of the true church will be readily deceived by this wonderworking power; and Protestants, having cast away the shield of truth, will also be deluded. Papists, Protestants, and worldlings will alike see in this union a grand movement for the conversion of the world.

Through spiritualism, Satan appears as a benefactor of the race, healing diseases and presenting a new system of religious faith*.."*

Great Controversy chapter 36.

From Wikipedia:
"The history of socialism has its origins in the 1789 French Revolution and the changes which it brought, although it has precedents in earlier movements and ideas. The Communist Manifesto was written by Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels in 1848 just before the Revolutions of 1848 swept Europe, expressing what they termed scientific socialism. In the last third of the 19th century, social democratic parties arose in Europe, drawing mainly from Marxism. The Australian Labor Party was the world's first elected socialist party when it formed government in the Colony of Queensland for a week in 1899."

Ellen White:
"The government under which Jesus lived was corrupt and oppressive; on every hand were crying abuses,—extortion, intolerance, and grinding cruelty*.* Yet the Savior attempted no civil reforms. He attacked no national abuses, nor condemned the national enemies. He did not interfere with the authority or administration of those in power. He who was our Example kept aloof from earthly governments—not because He was indifferent to the woes of men, but because the remedy did not lie in merely human and external measures. To be efficient, the cure must reach men individually and must regenerate the heart. "Not by the decisions of courts, or councils, or legislative assemblies, not by the patronage of worldly great men, is the kingdom of Christ established; but by the implanting of Christ's nature in humanity through the work of the Holy Spirit. 'As many as received Him, to them gave He power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on His name; which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.' Here is the only power that can work the uplifting of mankind. And the human agency for the accomplishment of this work if the teaching and the practicing of the Word of God."
— The American Sentinel 15, May 17, 1900

Go to the online article on the Via Veritas Vita web-page to access to the other articles in the recommended links.